

Keep Abreast of What the Legislature Is Doing to You

Are there new taxes on the horizon? A surplus will again require lawmakers to grant taxpayers a rebate or credit. Will some taxpayers again get nothing at all as lawmakers provided last year? Come and find out the answer to these issues and more at the Tax Foundation of Hawaii's Legislative Briefings.

In addition to the status of tax measures, legislative monitors from various areas of interest to business will be invited to share their issues with members. Among the areas which may be included are labor issues, insurance proposals, and concerns of the transportation and visitor industry.

Dates have been selected to coincide with key dates of the legislative calendar and an early morning (7:30 a.m.) continental breakfast at the Pacific Club was selected as the venue for these presentations which are scheduled to last not more than one hour. The dates are:
